

Chapter 5 Consultation and Coordination

Since the beginning of the planning process for the CCNM, BLM has made substantial efforts to involve the public and agencies in its information-gathering and decision-making process. This outreach has helped to inform the planning process and ensure that alternative management approaches, and their anticipated outcomes, are understood. Public and agency involvement has included a series of public scoping meetings, as well as consultation with numerous agencies and Native American tribes, and regular meetings of an interdisciplinary team made up of agency experts.

Consultation and Coordination

5.1 Public Scoping Process

5.1.1 Notice of Intent

A Notice of Intent to prepare an RMP for the CCNM was published in the Federal Register on April 24, 2002. (The full text of the NOI appears in the Scoping Report, which is Appendix B.) A notice announcing the time and location of the eight initial public scoping meetings was mailed in early August 2002 to more than 450 individuals, organizations, and government agencies. In addition, a news release announcing the time and location of the meetings was sent to approximately 500 media outlets for the 15 California coastal counties. The public scoping period lasted from April 24, 2002, through October 25, 2002.

5.1.2 Public Scoping Meetings

Public scoping meetings were held in Bodega Bay, Elk, Trinidad, San Diego, Laguna Beach, Santa Barbara, Monterey, and San Francisco, California. Each meeting had a local host. The local hosts were local organizations that served as the BLM's local contact, providing or helping BLM find a meeting facility and assisting with publicizing the meeting. In most cases, the local host also sent a representative to open the meeting, welcome BLM and the various attendees, and introduce Rick Hanks, the CCNM Manager. Mr. Hanks facilitated and gave a presentation on the CCNM at each of the eight meetings.

The roster of local hosts demonstrates the variety of potential partners for the CCNM. The hosts included business associations, research facilities, an environmental organization, and a maritime museum. The date, time, location, and local host for each of the eight meetings are listed in Table 5-1.

At each of the public scoping meetings, CCNM Manager Rick Hanks gave a short presentation about the BLM and the National Landscape Conservation System, the CCNM, and the planning process for developing the RMP. The attendees were informed that the primary purpose of the initial public scoping meetings was to begin to identify the issues and concerns that the RMP should be addressing. The attendees were asked to identify any additional individuals, organizations, or entities that BLM should contact regarding data, issues, or concerns relevant to CCNM management, as well as any information sources that might be useful in preparation of the RMP.

Following a brief question and answer period, the attendees were divided into two to four groups, depending on the total number of attendees present at each meeting. Each group was assigned a facilitator and a recorder. Rick Hanks and Mike Rushton, Senior Vice President of Jones & Stokes (the environmental consulting firm contracted to work with BLM on development of the RMP), served as facilitators for all eight meetings. When additional facilitators were needed, BLM field managers or Jones & Stokes resource specialists filled that role. BLM and Jones & Stokes employees served as recorders. Each group met for at least 30 minutes and every attendee was encouraged to provide input. Each individual comment was recorded on a flip chart. Once the individual group information sessions were completed, the flip charts were brought to the front of the room and each group's comments were summarized for all the attendees to hear. Any additional comments or concerns were heard and recorded at that time.

Attendees were given the opportunity to submit a CCNM comment card that could be left with the staff at the meeting or mailed to the CCNM office by October 25, 2002, the closing date for the CCNM scoping period. A list of attendees and staff present at each public scoping meeting and a brief summary of public comments and concerns from each meeting are provided in the Scoping Report. (The comments and information recorded on each flip chart from the eight scoping meetings are also provided in the Scoping Report.)

5.1.3 Independent Meetings

In addition to the formal public scoping meetings, several independent meetings were held with interested parties to identify issues of importance. A list of attendees and staff present at each independent scoping meeting and a brief summary of comments and concerns from each meeting are provided in the Scoping Report. The date, time, location, and participating agency at each of the meetings are listed in Table 5-2.

5.1.4 Letters of Comment

During the public scoping period, BLM received 25 letters providing input for the RMP and NEPA processes. The individuals, groups, and agencies that sent comment letters, as well as subjects addressed in the letters, are summarized in the Scoping Report.

5.2 Cooperation and Consultation with Agencies

5.2.1 Agencies Contacted

A total of 48 agencies and tribes have been contacted to determine their interest in being a cooperating agency for the CCNM RMP and NEPA processes: six federal agencies, five California state agencies, 15 California coastal counties, and 22 federally recognized tribes. The invited agencies and tribes are listed below, with the date of correspondence and basis for invitation. Copies of the correspondence requesting cooperating agency status are included in the Scoping Report.

Federal Agencies

1. Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary (MBNMS), National Sanctuary Program, National Ocean Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), U.S. Department of Commerce (William Douros, Superintendent), 10/07/02. Basis: MBNMS is a collaborative partner with CCNM; the sanctuary extends along 20 percent of the California coast with jurisdiction below the mean high tide line.
2. Minerals Management Service (MMS), Pacific OCS Region, U.S. Department of the Interior (DOI) (Lisle Reed, Regional Director), 10/18/02. Basis: MMS has management responsibility for lands below the CCNM jurisdiction from 3 to 12 nautical miles off the California coastline.

3. U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), California/Nevada Operations, Pacific Region, DOI (Steve Thompson, CA/NV Ops Manager), 10/18/02. Basis: USFWS has jurisdiction over bird and plant species listed as threatened or endangered under the federal ESA, as well as migratory bird oversight and enforcement responsibilities. In addition, USFWS conducts ongoing monitoring and research activities within the CCNM area related to seabird colonies and oil spill restoration.
4. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Fisheries Service (NOAA Fisheries), Southwest Regional Office, NOAA, U.S. Department of Commerce (Rodney McGinnis, Acting Regional Administrator), 10/18/02. Basis: NOAA Fisheries is responsible for both marine fisheries and sea mammal protection and enforcement.
5. National Park Service (NPS), Pacific West Region, DOI (Jonathan Jarvis, Regional Director), 3/30/03. Basis: NPS manages six National Park units (Redwoods National Park, Point Reyes National Seashore, Golden Gate National Recreation Area, Santa Monica Mountains National Recreation Area, Channel Islands National Park, and Cabrillo National Monument) near or adjacent to the CCNM.
6. U.S. Air Force (USAF), Department of the Air Force (Maureen Koetz, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Environment, Safety and Occupational Health), 5/5/03. Basis: The USAF is responsible for the management of Vandenberg AFB, consisting of over 100,000 acres of federal land on the California coast from Point Conception to south of Point Sal—including 35 miles of coastline. The USAF has developed an Integrated Natural Resources Management Plan (INRMP) for Vandenberg AFB and maintains an environmental staff to oversee the implementation and management of the INRMP. The USAF is interested in functioning as a “steward” in the management of the portion of the CCNM adjacent to Vandenberg AFB.

The following federally recognized tribes along the California coast or with a California coastal interest that were contacted are listed below:

1. Big Lagoon Ranchería, Trinidad, CA (Virgil Moorehead, Chair), 11/22/02.

State Agencies

1. California Department of Fish and Game (DFG), State of California Resources Agency (Robert Hight, Director), 10/01/02. Basis: DFG is one of the two California state agencies that serve as “core managing partners” with BLM in managing the CCNM. DFG is responsible for enforcing state fish and game laws; managing California’s diverse fish, wildlife, and plant resources and the habitats upon which they depend—for their ecological values and for their use and enjoyment by the public, including California’s marine ecosystem; and managing California’s oil spill prevention and response program.
2. California Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR), State of California Resources Agency (Ruth Coleman, Acting Director), 10/01/02. Basis: DPR is one of the two California state agencies that serve as “core managing partners” with BLM in managing the CCNM. DPR administers 25 percent of the California coast; a large portion of the CCNM is directly associated with California State Park System units. DPR’s mission is to provide for the health, inspiration, and education of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most valued natural and cultural resources, and creating opportunities for high-quality outdoor recreation.

3. California State Lands Commission (SLC), State of California Resources Agency (Paul Thayer, Executive Officer), 10/18/02. Basis: SLC has management responsibility for lands below the CCNM jurisdiction from below mean high tide line to 3 nautical miles off the California coastline.
4. California Coastal Commission, State of California Resources Agency (Peter Douglas, Executive Director), 10/18/02. Basis: The primary mission of the California Coastal Commission is to plan for and regulate land and water uses in the coastal zone consistent with the policies of the Coastal Zone Management Act. This mission includes handling the federal Consistency Program that assures that federal activities, permits, and funding approvals are conducted in a manner consistent with the state's coastal program.
5. California State Coastal Conservancy, State of California Resources Agency (Sam Schuchat, Executive Officer), 10/18/02. Basis: The California State Coastal Conservancy is a state agency that uses entrepreneurial techniques to work in partnership with others to preserve, improve, and restore public access and natural resources along the California coast. The California Legislature created the Conservancy as a unique entity with flexible powers to serve as an intermediary among government, citizens, and the private sector in recognition that creative approaches would be needed to preserve California's coast for future generations. The California State Coastal Conservancy's non-regulatory, problem-solving approach complements their work.

California Coastal Counties

The 15 California coastal counties that were contacted are listed below:

1. Del Norte, Crescent City, CA (Charles Blackburn, Board of Supervisors Chair), 09/25/02.
2. Humboldt, Eureka, CA (Bonnie Neely, Board of Supervisors Chair), 09/25/02.
3. Mendocino, Ukiah, CA (J. David Colfax, Board of Supervisors Chairman), 09/25/02.

5.2.2 Agencies Requesting Cooperating Agency Status

Of the 48 agencies, counties, and tribes invited to request cooperating agency status, BLM received responses from two federal agencies, three California state agencies, six California coastal counties, and one federally recognized tribe by the close of the scoping period. Of these 12 responses, 10 requested or stated that they were interested in cooperating agency status. The 10 entities requesting cooperating agency status are listed below:

1. DPR,
2. DFG,
3. SLC (requested “limited” status),
4. San Luis Obispo County,
5. Humboldt County,
6. Del Norte County,
7. Santa Cruz County,
8. Trinidad Ranchería,
9. USAF, and
10. NPS.

An individual Draft MOU was sent to each of the 10 entities requesting cooperating agency status. To date, no MOU has been completed. Cooperating Agency MOUs were completed and signed with DPR, DFG, and Trinidad Ranchería. A Cooperating Agency MOU is in the process of being completed with the USAF. All four of the counties that were sent proposed MOUs later declined the offer to serve as a Cooperating Agency.

5.3 Collaboration with Tribes

BLM contact with federally recognized tribes is discussed above. In addition to contacting these federally recognized groups, BLM forwarded letters to a broader range of Native American groups to solicit information on traditional cultural properties along the coast. The list of groups contacted and the letter requesting information are included in the Scoping Report (Appendix B).

5.4 Interdisciplinary Team Process

To assist with development of the CCNM RMP, an Interdisciplinary (ID) Team was formed, consisting of disciplinary specialists from BLM and BLM's consultants; representatives from DPR, DFG, and Trinidad Ranchería (each signed a Cooperating Agency MOU); and representatives from the USAF (a Cooperating Agency MOU is pending with BLM). The ID Team met numerous times throughout the planning process to develop issue area content for the RMP, to discuss public scoping issues that were brought forward through the planning process, and to review and provide feedback on draft and final project deliverables. The ID Team meetings were used as a forum to solicit input and gather data from BLM Field and State Office personnel, as well as from partnering agencies. A list of the ID Team is provided in Chapter 6.

In addition to the ID Team, BLM managers and specialists, as well representatives from various agencies and organizations, were invited to participate in the ID Team meetings and to review various documents leading to the development of this Draft RMP/Draft EIS. Table 5-3 lists those agency and organization contacts.
